JANE PEPLER

Jane Pepler graduated from Yale University with a degree in Russian language and literature. She began singing Yiddish songs in 1983 and directed the Triangle Jewish Chorale in North Carolina for fourteen years. Pepler studies with Yiddish professor and textbook author, Sheva Zucker, and has attended two intensive summer Yiddish courses at the Medem Bibliotheque in Paris.

In addition to translating Yiddish stories by Sholem Aleichem, Ayzik Meyer Dik, and Mendele Moykher Sforim, Pepler has completed English translations of Jacob Dinezon's Yosele (www.jewishstorytellerpress.com/yosele.html), Alter, and Hershele.

In 2014, Pepler published Yiddish Songs from Warsaw 1929-1934: The Itsik Zhelonek Collection. She has also produced and performed on several albums of Yiddish music, including "I Can't Complain (But Sometimes I Still Do)," "Cabaret Warsaw: Yiddish and Polish Hits of the 1920s-1930s," and the three volume set, "Yiddish Songs from Warsaw."
